COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND LEADERSHIP

Francis X. Kimmitt, Ph.D., Interim Dean

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATIONFrancis X. Kimmitt, Ph.D., Interim Department Chair

The Department of Business Administration strives to assist business majors in becoming autonomous, competent, responsible, and interdependent individuals able to utilize biblically-based business skills, intellect, wisdom and integrity to meet changing market place demands for the new millennium. Through the Online Learning program, a student may pursue a business degree with the following concentrations: General Business, Computer Information Systems, and Sports Administration. In addition to the residential course offerings, all Business Administration courses are available through Online Learning.

PURPOSE

It is the purpose of the Department of Business Administration to prepare students for leadership roles in Christian ministries, as well as public and private business worldwide by integrating biblical principles with academic content. The degree also prepares the student for graduate studies in business.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- 1. The student will identify an array of modern business techniques, including the application of currently accepted business principles and analytical reasoning within a technically changing global environment.
- 2. The student will demonstrate the ability to apply managerial skills by successfully completing the appropriate capstone course.
- The student will demonstrate competency in applying academic knowledge to business practice through participation in the activities designed to focus attention on national and international business.

STATUS SHEET

Each Tennessee Temple University student graduating with a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree must complete:

- 1. All courses from the university Foundational Studies and General Core curriculum.
- 2. All courses in the Business departmental core curriculum and the applicable concentration curriculum.
- The capstone course for the major concentration. Capstone classes must be completed at TTU for satisfaction of this requirement. (No transfer credits will be considered for the capstone course.)
- 4. A nationally recognized placement test, such as the GMAT. A nationally recognized certification can be substituted with department chair approval.
